

President Marcy Moderates Climate Leadership Discussion

President Mary B. Marcy moderated a discussion titled "What Would Climate Leadership Look Like in Washington," on August 15.

Joining her were Congressman Jared Huffman; Melanie Fitzpatrick, a climate scientist with the Union of Concerned Scientists; Peter Miller, senior scientist with the Natural Resources Defense Council; Bill Carney, president of Sustainable San Rafael; and Carleen Cullen, executive director of Cool the Earth.

The event, free and open to the public, was at the Mill Valley Community Center.

The discussion was sponsored by various North Bay organizations, including Dominican's Green MBA. For more information, please call 415-482-6627.
